A sunshine notice was sent to five newspapers on 10/05/07, to announce the environmental field study workshop. This was an educational workshop conducted by the Chagrin River Watershed Partners for members of the Zoning Commission to learn more about rivers and streams in Russell Township.

Amy Holtshouse Brennan of the Chagrin River Watershed Partners met with the Zoning Commission members in the parking lot of the Administration Building at 4:00 p.m., and handed out aerial photographs of four properties to visit. They then drove to locations on Top Rail Lane, Fairmount Road, Hemlock Point Road and the Rivendell Subdivision. Ms. Brennan explained that streams are defined as such when they have a defined bed and bank, and showed examples of streams and wetlands.

The workshop concluded at 6:00 p.m. in the parking lot of the Administration Building.

Respectfully submitted,
